Sommelier Picks

Willow's wine program represents a comprehensive selection of wines that we either love, respect or feel express the true nature of their terroir and the winemaker who crafted them. The list below is simply a snapshot of wines we find undervalued that deliver packed flavor profiles for their current monetary value. All wines in this section are categorized by our interpretation of their aroma and taste, while the remainder of the list is organized by grape varietal and geography.

Whites Aromatic Gems

Expressive bouquets reminiscent of lemongrass, peach, pineapple, banana-- a melangé of tropical fruit gardens ranging from dry whites to semi-sweet.

814	Gruner Veltliner/Moscatel/Sauvignon Blanc, Steininger "Young", Austria, 2009	$28.00
604	Pinot Gris, Chehalem, Three Vineyard, Willamette Valley, Oregon, 2008	$50.00

616	Viognier, Darioush, Napa Valley, California, 2008	$90.00

True to their Source

Drawn from the Sourcerer's Stone, these bone-dry whites flaunt the purest expression of minerality; teetering the expression "rock juice," wherein the grapes draw the life from the cradle of bedrock that lie in the catacombs beneath the vines.

582	Sancerre, Alphonse Mellot "La Moussiere", Loire, France, 2009	$79.00
655	Chardonnay, Rully 1er Cru, Domaine des Margotes, Cote Chalonnaise, France, 2007	$75.00

Alternatives to Chardonnay

Made from grape varietals other than Chardonnay that deliver full-bodied flavor but rather than butter and decadence, these lean towards a wine waxiness with floral undertones accentuated with apricot, honey, & richness.

802	Semillon, Fidelitas, Colombia Valley, Washington, 2007	$45.00
617	Viognier, Dumazet Marie-Paule Condrieu "Rouell Midi", Rhone, France, 2004	$75.00
618	Marsanne/Roussanne, Domaine du Chêne, Saint-Joseph, France, 2005	$56.00

Classically Rich

Melt in your mouth flavors of Anjou pear, white peaches, star fruit, & creamy layers of banana with overtones of honeysuckle; elegant expressions of decadence.

Reds

Velvet Seductress

Lighter-bodied, softer tannins, but still flaunting limitless complexities. Nuances of black cherry, ripe tomato, delicate mushrooms flanked by hints of spiciness--cinnamon, saffron or mint. Yes, we speak of good Pinot Noir, the kind that creates a lasting impression on the palate and the memory.

194	Pinot Noir, Over the Edge, Martinborough, New Zealand, 2008	$35.00
168	Pinot Noir, Givry, Alain Roy, Cote Chalonnaise, France, 2007	$45.00

172	Gevrey-Chambertin 1er Cru, Shaps & Roucher-Sarrazin "Les Crais". France, 2005	$110.00

Blackberry Crush

Inky, jammy, fruit-packed, flavor-filled, ultra concentrated and heavily extracted. Silky integrated tannins, despite the full-bodied component.

468	Petite Syrah, Cass, "Estate Grown," Paso Robles, California, 2006	$70.00
365	Malbec, Finca Mayol Old Vines Malbec, Lujan de Cuyo, Argentina, 2005	$79.00
459	Syrah, Carica "Kick Ranch", Sonoma County, California, 2006	$75.00

Garden Fresh

Aromatic herbs are pronounced in these reds: sage, dill, thyme, rosemary, lavender, tarragon, anise, eucalyptus, to name a few. Herbaceous scents do not take the front seat alone, though, these wines still display a magnificent quality of fruit.

253	Grenache/Syrah/Cinsault, Minervois, Chateau d'Agel, Languedoc, France, 2008	$35.00
403	Cabernet Sauvignon, Vinaceous "Raconteur", Padthaway, South Australia, 2007	$40.00
278	Tempranillo, La Rioja Alta, Vina Alberdi Reserva, Rioja, Spain, 2003	$56.00
